Telephone Tie-up May Hit Nation

Strike of 17,000 in Electric Line Is Still Deadlocked

Sympathy Move

Breakdown of Phone Communications Is Set for Tomorrow

New York, Jan. 8 (AP)—A two-way threat of a complete coast-to-coast telephone system stoppage by tomorrow hung over the nation today as the strike of 17,000 Western Electric employees in New York and New Jersey remained deadlocked in its sixth day.

The nationwide tie-up could result from strike action against Western Electric by the communications equipment workers, an independent union claiming 6,000 members, or the National Federation of Telephone Workers, another independent labor organization, claiming 263,000 telephone installation workers in 42 states.

The N.F.T.W. action would be in sympathy with the striking Western Electric employees.

The Western Electric walkout was called by the Western Electric Employees Association (Ind.) headed by Frank J. Fitzsimmons, which seeks a 30 per cent wage increase. The company has offered a 15 per cent boost.

The Equipment Workers Union and the N.F.T.W. are affiliated with each other and with the W.E.A.

Ernest Weaver, president of the equipment union, said yesterday that a strike which would mean a 100 per cent breakdown of toll telephone service was scheduled for tomorrow. He asserted that the dial system through which most local calls are made would break down in a week or 10 days.

Other telephone unions have said they would not cross any picket lines established by Weaver's union in its disputes with the Western Electric Company.

Meanwhile, Weaver announced that a meeting last night which was an "improvement" on previous ones, but that the union had rejected it, offering a counter proposal—"our final proposal."

Joseph Beirne, president of the union, said he would know the result tomorrow of a nationwide poll of N.F.T.W. members on whether they wanted to strike.

However, N.F.T.W. unions in Pennsylvania and Connecticut announced they had voted not to join a sympathy strike.

Intensive Search Underway Today For Chicago Child's Kidnap Slayer

Police Are Combing City for Maniac Who Cut Up Degan Girl's Body Monday

Chicago, Jan. 8 (AP)—A maniac kidnap-slayer, who stole six-year-old Suzanne Degan from her bed in the early morning hours Monday for $20,000 ransom and then hacked her tiny body to pieces and dumped them into sewers, was hunted today by an infuriated force of police officers.

The gruesome discoveries last night of the child's head, chopped crudely from her tiny body, and dismembered parts of the blonde, blue-eyed girl, came after one of the city's police history got underway.

The head, torso and legs were found in four different catch basins in the vicinity of the Degan home at 5943 Kenmore avenue, in the Edgewater Beach district on the north side.

Only the two arms of the little victim were missing as nearly 100 policemen and crews from the city sewer department continued their all-night search.

Run Down All Clues

Meanwhile, scores of the department's top ranking detectives ran down every possible clue in efforts to apprehend the kidnap-killer.

Several men were taken into custody for questioning. There was no disclosure immediately by police if any were regarded as suspects of the brutal murder.

The tragic news of Suzanne's death was told to her grief-stricken parents, James E. and Helen Degan, by their parish priest last night shortly after the

Mrs. Carlan is scheduled for hearing next Thursday. She at present is at liberty under $2,500 bail.

The young mother's report that her son, Ronald, had been kidnapped in November was responsible for one of the most widespread and frantic searches in New England history. The infant's body subsequently was found concealed under a cupboard in the Carlan home.

The medical examiner reported he found no evidence of violence and Mrs. Carlan asserted she found Ronald dead in his crib.

which surpasses that made by the United States.

The recognition already extended to Romania and Yugoslavia is condition, Mr. Truman said, emphasizing that final action will not be taken until there have been guarantees of free, democratic elections.

Mr. Truman declined to elaborate on his reference to a possible increase in steel prices, an issue in the threatened strike of C.I.O. steel workers. He explained that the matter still is under consideration and a statement will be made at the proper time.

On the labor side, he also reiterated that he believes the establishment of fact-finding boards in labor disputes with a 30-day ban on strikes would prevent strikes.

Other developments at the news conference included:

Mr. Truman said he had received assurances from Emil Schram, president of the New York Stock Exchange, that there is no inflationary trend in the stock market.

He disclosed that he has informed a senatorial committee that conditions still prohibit the resumption of mail service to Germany. The committee had wanted to open the mails for shipments of food and other relief packages by individuals and charity organizations.

Saying he did not know all the facts of the situation at Manila, he declined to discuss demonstrations by members of the armed forces against the slowdown in demobilization.

Union City, Jersey City and Bayonne in New Jersey, were struck. Still a third spokesman for the union said "a state of strike" had existed among employees since last night and that "very little work" was done by union members because they were "highly indignant" at the company's rejection of a proposal by Mayor William O'Dwyer for settling the dispute.

Twelve hundred pickets surrounded the Hudson street building. Cries of "scab" and "strike-breaker" filled the air as persons approached the building.

Sixty policemen were on the scene. One entrance was kept open.

At the main Western Union office the power tubes which carry messages were shut off. A number of branch offices were not open for business, including some in nearby New Jersey.

In the cavernous Pennsylvania station, where a branch Western Union office is maintained, an assistant manager for the company said plugs had been pulled from the machines.

Many servicemen in the station, unable to send telegraph messages, formed lines before telephone book.

At La Guardia Field the United Airlines, dependent upon Western Union equipment and maintenance for its teletype communications, said it had been assured by the union that its service would be continued.

New Jurors System Here Works Effectively

The benefits of the Commissioner of Jurors system for selection of trial and grand jurors were demonstrated today when the first panel of jurors appeared in Supreme Court. Out of an extra panel of six grand jurors, all appeared for duty and only one sought to be excused.

From the extra panel of 36 trial jurors, 25 were summoned and appeared in court and only eight sought to be excused. This is a far greater number retained from any panel in recent months. The 11 jurors whose names were drawn and who were not served either were ill, out of the county or not served for some other reason.

For the past several terms of court under the old system of selection of jurors it has been practically impossible to get a panel and the functioning of the grand jury has been held up pending drawing of extra names. Trial jurors in the past have frequently been augmented by talesmen when two-thirds of the original panel drawn presented excuses.

Following the roll call of jurors, the grand jury was charged as to its duties and entered upon its deliberations. Henry Machott was named foreman by Justice Schenck and Thomas Murphy of Wawarsing was named acting foreman.

Selection of a jury was taken up to hear the evidence in a divorce action brought by James Quinn against Jane Quinn.

Numerous local residents were given flight instructions at the airport, which also maintained a chartered service. Captain William Scott, formerly of the army, was manager of the airport, with Ruth Franchling of Woodstock employed as an instructor.

Mr. Walker has not made definite plans as yet, but expects to continue the field as an airport.

Cost $13,646,641 To Draft 844,909

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 8 (AP)—The task of drafting 844,909 Pennsylvanians for the armed forces cost $13,646,641 from September 15, 1940, to September 30, 1945, State Selective Service headquarters reported today.

Although the cost of operating the draft in the Keystone State was five times what it cost in World War I, the cost per man was only $5 greater in World War II when it averaged $16.15 per inductee.

In World War I, Selective Service spent $2,506,669 in Pennsylvania to draft 223,122 at an average cost of $11.23 per man.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JANUARY 8, 1946

CLOTHING DRIVE

Every resident of the City of Kingston is asked to ransack closets and attics from now until the end of the month for wearable clothes, shoes and bedding to be shipped to war-ravaged countries the world around. This is the Victory Clothing Collection.

Chairman Raymond H. Rignall has announced that the grammar school pupils of the city will collect the clothing and bring to the schools, where it will be packed and shipped later in the month.
No serviceable garment not in immediate use should hang in any closet in any Kingston home.

Never in the world's history has there been such need of clothing. Millions upon millions are in rags, barefoot, never approaching adequate covering. Here is an opportunity for Americans to demonstrate practical good will, to lay foundations in country after country for friendship, the basis of peace, and beyond this to share our blessings with people in terrible need.

LONG-TIME OBLIGATION

The Veterans Administration looks forward to maintaining 300,000 beds for wounded and sick soldiers. A special brief course is being inaugurated for 5,000 experienced nurses this year and 4,500 more in 1947. The aim is to train the women in techniques of new treatments and medicines. There will be 30 three-month nursing scholarships, the graduates of which will conduct demonstration centers in various veterans' hospitals to coach other nurses, who will then be given rotating assignments of two years in each hospital.

In an effort to relieve pressure on veterans' hospitals an experiment is being tried in Michigan whereby incapacitated soldiers of that state may receive care by doctors and in hospitals of their choice in their own communities, all at government expense. Since federal law specifies that veterans suffering disabilities not traceable to military action, and who cannot afford private care, must be cared for in veterans hospitals, this group, numbering now about 60,000, greatly taxes the hospitals. If some of the war wounded could be cared for at home, this situation would be eased. Also, this would permit wounded men needing a long convalescence to have it under family physician at home. Gen. Omar Bradley, veterans' administrator, says if the Michigan plan succeeds it will be used elsewhere.

The Veterans' Administration has no program of early peace-time reduction. Its tasks and program will go on long after most people have forgotten there ever was a war.

NO HARM IN DREAMING

The bathroom has been called the American yard stick of luxury. Certainly the American proclivity for bathrooms is eyed with awe by Europeans. Now come some new ideas for the bathroom of the house-of-the-future.
It is to be a divided room with duplex and triplex facilities, the toilet arranged in one compartment, washstands and shower in another so that each can be used separately while the others also are in use. In these new plans grandmother's built-in washstand is presented as a new idea. This is a wash-bowl set in a cupboard with wide, flat surfaces convenient for toilet and shaving utensils, and closed spaces underneath.
Utility rooms are to achieve a new high of popularity in homes of the future. These are to be rooms combining washing machine and ironer, as well as a shower where dirty little boys and garden-making fathers can clean up before entering the main part of the house.

It's all very alluring, calculated to make any housekeeper discontented with present arrangements—until she stops to think how fortunate she is to have a real roof over her head at the present moment of home shortages instead of merely the dream house of tomorrow on paper.

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

PROSPECTUS OF A LOAN

This is a loan for the purpose of taking first steps for the economic rehabilitation of Great Britain and to underwrite certain social experiments, and to maintain a trade relationship with the remainder of the British Empire.

Amount:
$25,000,000,000 of Lend-Lease balances is forgiven by the U. S. A.;

$3,750,000,000 to be lent to England outright;
$1,500,000,000 approximate interest charges paid by the United States over and above the interest charges paid by the British;

$650,000,000 loaned to purchase American surplus war stocks now in Great Britain from the United States.

Total involved: $30,900,000,000; total to be paid over by the United States to Great Britain, in cash, goods, or credits, $1,400,000,000.

Security: None.

Interest charges: Nominal 2 per cent actual 1.62 percent; payable in 50 years after a 5-year interval (actual 55 years), but only if borrower can pay; provable by an indeterminate formula based upon an imponderable national income equation. United States, borrowing this money from the American people, will have to pay 2 1/2 per cent for the money, netting a loss on the interest charges.

Credit of Borrower: Low. Has in the United States an estimated open credit of between $2-500,000,000 and $3,500,000,000 against which owes to British colonies, dominions, etc., about $12,000-000,000.

Advantages to Borrower: Doubtful. Loan, as often suggested in debate in Parliament, may even be harmful to Great Britain, which could better rehabilitate herself by the normal processes of trade within the United States. Britain's greatest need is large imports of food and raw materials; preferred market for exports of manufactured goods.

Advantage to Lender: None.

Amortization: Not likely. Amount too great for prospective trade possibilities. Failure to amortize loan likely to create endless animosities between the two countries, leading to revival of "Uncle Strylock" attacks in Great Britain and "They hired the money" recriminations in this country. No statistical evidence now available to indicate that amortization probable at any time.

Where money to be spent: In the United States. Competition, particularly for food and building materials, likely to stimulate inflationary prices unless government controls are continued for the duration of the expenditure. Competition for building materials, in particular, is likely to cause antagonism in the United States where there is a critical shortage.

Is Loan Agreement binding: Not yet. Must be ratified by Congress. Has already been ratified by Parliament.

Substitute of Loan: Great Britain owns 4,000-000,000 pounds of wool which this country could purchase for cash. Also owns jute, tin, and rubber in large but unreported quantities. Also owns islands in Atlantic and Pacific Oceans which the United States could purchase to be used as military bases. It would be advantageous to both countries to put these transactions strictly on a business basis, but not particularly advantageous to the politicians of either country, who find straight business and straight bookkeeping undramatic.

Recommendation: Unsound investment. Bad precedent. Russians, French, Chinese and everybody else will, once Congress passes loan bill, regard it as unfriendly if the United States does not come across on the same terms. The lender is likely to lose friends by showing preference. A private banker can always select business that is unsafe; a government is obligated to support its friends, when it is least sound to do it because all else has failed. "Neither a lender nor a borrower be" aptly applies in this instance.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

By James W. Barton, M.D.

GALL BLADDER DISTURBANCES

Just a few years ago there was a popular saying, "A gall bladder patient is a woman, fair, fat, and forty," and at that time this was, in the majority of cases, a truthful saying. However since tight corsets went out of style there are not so many more women than men suffering with gall bladder disturbances. When we think of this little sack about the size of an egg it is surprising that any inactivity or inflammation of the gall bladder can cause so much distress and disturbance in the human body.

In the Journal of Medical Society of New Jersey, Dr. M. E. Rehfuss, the noted authority on digestive diseases, states that patients with a disease of the gall bladder are usually over forty years of age, corpulent and subject to nervous disorders with gas pressure in upper abdomen. Pain is present in 75 per cent of cases, headache in 61 per cent, dizziness in 40 per cent, disturbances of heart and blood vessels in 39 per cent, and rheumatic symptoms in 32 per cent. Those of us who have been thinking that all headaches are due to eye disturbances, dizziness to ear disturbances, heart symptoms and rheumatism to infected teeth and tonsils may well consider these figures and naturally marvel that this small storage organ can so upset the various processes of the body.

For years it has been known that gall stones may not cause any disturbance—pain, gas, dizziness—and where slight symptoms are present careful treatment can give relief and prevent any need for operation.
Dr. Rehfuss outlines measures to improve the action of the liver, prevent sluggishness of bile flow, and symptoms caused by this sluggishness: it is complete rest and a strict diet faithfully followed. "Fried foods should be shunned and fats taken cautiously. A little fat—cream, butter, bacon—taken at breakfast is usually effective in emptying the gall bladder. A diet without any fat whatever is unwise as the body needs fat soluble vitamins.
Pressure on the liver and gall bladder by bending exercises (do not straighten) and deep breathing exercises, both of which "squeeze" liver and gall bladder, help to keep them active. If kept active there should be no gall bladder symptoms.

seem far away. Hundreds of fighting men are not yet home from the last war. Yet many are already talking about "the next war" and guessing its time of arrival.

Surely there is nothing so inevitable as such an attitude seems to assume. Surely, as Robert Browning declared:

Youth shows but half; Trust God, see all nor be afraid!'"

Knocking the Coin Out Of—

REG-MANNING-VE

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

A 1923 version of "Mrs. Jarley's Wax Works," an entertainment that had proved popular in the '80's and '90's, was presented in the Holy Cross Parish House on Pine Grove avenue on November 13, of that year, with the late Mrs. George F. Chandler portraying the role of Mrs. Jarley.

Among the others in the cast were Mrs. Charles Brady, Margaret Winter, Jane Schoonmaker, Ruth Sears, Catherine Benjamin, Harold Kuehn, Elting Burgevin, Richard Guevin, Eva Rand, Mary Gertrude Planthaber, Wilson Van Brimmer, Herman Gunter and Harry Jlines.

During the many years that Mrs. Chandler was a resident of this city she was very active in amateur theatricals, and was widely known as a monologist. She was also a skilled newspaper writer and was very active in the auxiliary of the Kingston Hospital, writing practically all of the publicity for that organization.

Miss Georgia Deudney, for years a member of the faculty of School No. 4 in Poughkeepsie, died on November 25, 1923. She had lived practically her entire life in Kingston, and with her sister, Miss Margaret Deudney, resided on Broadway, opposite Orchard street.

For years she was president of the Ladies Aid Society of the Roundout Presbyterian Church, and very active in all church affairs.

Miss Deudney was a charter member of the Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs, and for years a member of The Coterie and the Auxiliary of the Kingston Hospital.

Sherman E. Eighmey, for years one of the outstanding merchants of Kingston, died suddenly of a heart attack in the home of a friend in Willow, on November 30, 1923. His death occurred on his 55th birthday.

Mr. Eighmey on July 12, 1923, had celebrated his 28th year as a dry goods merchant at his store on Broadway, at Mill street. His first embarkment in business at 19 Broadway, and as his business grew he was forced to seek larger quarters, and purchased the building at Broadway and Mill street, and later bought the store in the rear of the building on Mill street, making it a part of the Broadway store.

Mr. Eighmey moved to his new store at Broadway and Mill street in 1911, and up to the time of his death the Eighmey store was widely known, not only in the city, but throughout the vicinity of Kingston, for the high grade merchandise carried.

He was also active in the religious life of the city, and had served as superintendent of the Sunday school of Trinity Methodist Church and as a member of the official board of the church.

Some years ago the Eighmey building was torn down and the present Roundout Savings Bank erected on the site.

RED COATS MAY GO
"The Red Coats are coming" may never again be a battle cry for the famous three-century-old red coat of the British Empire's Infantry Regiments of the Line may be changed to blue, according to word received in Belfast, Northern Ireland, in this event, the scarlet tunic would not be worn again, except for the Household Cavalry and Brigade of Guards. With disappearance of the scarlet uniform would go the "squad helmet." For the Infantry, a type of shako, or stiff military cap, is favored.

TICKETS STILL HOT
A labor dispute which arose in Northern Ireland before the war still is going on, Belfast reports. Eight years ago, workers at the Belfast Linen Co. plant started picketing, as a result of a wage demand. There is still an immediate prospect of settlement and the pickets are still there.

Labor Controversies Should Be Conducted Along Lines of Reasoning Fair to Both Sides

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Jan. 8.—Physical violence, actual or threatened, has emerged as a technique on the picket lines to such an extent that it rapidly is creating a national scandal comparable to the "sit-down" strikes of a few years ago when strikers attempted to seize property and hold it against management.

When state laws break down and local police allow unions to determine who shall or shall not enter a plant where a strike has occurred, it is conceded that the legal picketing is in progress. The fact that several instances in widely separated localities have occurred recently unhappily confirms the fears of those who urged in vain the passage of the famous Tydings amendment to the Wagner Labor Relations Act in 1935.

At that time a substantial number of senators favored an amendment which would have prohibited "coercion from any source." Other senators—a majority—insisted that this was unnecessary because state laws protected individuals and that there was no need to vest additional police power in the federal government.

Since that time, however, the Supreme Court of the United States has ruled that the laws which prohibit interruptions or forcible restraints in interstate commerce could not be applied to labor disputes and that the management in the famous Apex case had to go to the state courts for redress.

There are many persons now who feel that the case for an amendment of the Wagner Act to make it applicable to unions as well as management has been made by the strikers themselves in recent weeks. Thus in the Yale & Towne strike in Connecticut, the local police have failed to safeguard management's right to enter its own plant. Encouraged by the breakdown of state and local authority in Connecticut, picketing forces have taken the same steps in other areas, so that now it is becoming common to observe unions issuing passes permitting selected personnel to go through picket lines.

None of the laws of any of the several states relating to "peaceful picketing" condones physical coercion or violence even by implication. These laws usually permit only peaceful devices to persuade non-union or other workers from resuming work. Now, however, it is often to be noted that management is loathly kept out of its own offices and, in some instances, it has been found necessary to apply for injunctions in state courts.

The Congress, supported by Supreme Court decisions, has taken the position that it is within federal jurisdiction to compel employer to bargain collectively and that he can be punished for discouraging union organizing activities. The theory of the law was that labor disputes directly affect interstate commerce. Plainly the same theory can be applied to violence which is used to interrupt the flow of interstate commerce and especially to deprive citizens of their individual liberties.

If the situation were reversed and some employer forcibly closed some employee, the clamor would come from the leaders of organized labor would be heard from coast to coast. But when labor union leaders actually order their members or professional pickets to take up positions at the entrances to plants and forcibly prevent management from entering, it is only a question of time when resistance will be made and bloodshed will ensue.

Will it require bloodshed to awaken the states and cities to their duties in relation to illegal picketing? Or must Congress be persuaded to pass laws to use federal authority to protect private property where labor disputes affect interstate commerce? Recent events unfortunately reveal that labor controversies are not being conducted with processes of reason or even with the use of economic power but by physical coercion. It would seem that the nation's labor leaders would recognize the danger of such a situation and prohibit legal picketing at once. For as the whole labor situation produces a climax, it is quite possible that many of labor's hard-won gains may be wiped out by enactment of an angry Congress.

The "sit-down" strike has been a seizure of property and an unlawful trespass.
The blockade and physical seizure of the entrances to industrial plants is in the same category and when public opinion fully understands the issue, illegal picketing will be looked upon as just as lawless as lynching or any other course that insists on taking the law into one's own hands. Violence begets violence and lawlessness breeds more lawlessness. The illegal picketing now developing on a wide scale constitutes a grave threat to orderly government.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

Manila, Jan. 8 (AP)—"Fat-cats" by senior officers is stirring widespread animosity among enlisted men and junior officers in the American forces overseas.
"Fat-cats" is a term applied in the lower ranks to higher leaders who try to guide their personal military careers back into the easy prewar days of Colonel Blimp by padding themselves with special privileges and comforts.

This practice is doubtless common enough in peacetime, when social grace is sometimes more important than courage and character in winning promotion. At any rate, it is pretty well accepted in professional Army circles, even by enlisted men. After all, in peacetime even sergeants are provided with good government quarters and have a pretty nice deal.

In wartime, however, sergeants sleep with privates in foxholes or tents, and many junior officers find his billet at the front is a cold hole in the ground.
Waiting now to return to civilian life, many of these junior officers and enlisted men resent the speed with which high-ranking officers are surrounded themselves with expensive luxuries. This strikes particularly sour notes with men whose families back home are living on a pinch-pear level and who feel themselves to be victims of the tangled demobilization program.

These are some things to which the men especially object:
Quality items for post-exchange, such as good cigars, watches, or chesty lighters and all but the cheapest fountain pens have an uncanny habit of flowing in the general direction of colonels and majors. Privates may have enough money to buy them, but quantities are limited, so the privates don't get the opportunity very often.

One young officer assured me that his gold-braided command cap was living in a sumptuous house, staffed by 32 Filipino household help. "We have gotten over being dignant about it," he said. "We just try to figure out what the hell has to be done that requires 32 houseboys. After all, the place was redecorated and paid off before the guy moved in."

That is only one of several cases cited in which wearers of stars and gold lace are living at government accommodations at a cost beyond their private means and which seem out of place in this war-damaged city.

Rion, Hero in France, Re-Enlists in Army

Pvt. Ira S. Rion, 108 McEntee street, took the regular army oath today, it was announced by Capt. Harry W. Smith of the local recruiting station. Pvt. Rion was a former member of Company L, 83rd Division, 331 Infantry. He saw considerable action as an expert rifleman in Normandy, northern France, Rhineland, and Belgium campaigns.

During the northern France campaign Pvt. Rion and three companions captured a German pillbox after the artillery shelling had penetrated the outer wall. Rion and his companions crawled to the position and confronted the German officer in charge with rifles and ordered surrender. The German commander thinking himself hopelessly outnumbered ordered surrender of all his men totalling 180, the entire complement of the stronghold. For this heroic deed Pvt. Rion was awarded the Bronze Star.

A short time later in Belgium during the battle for the Belgium woods Rion's company was advancing when they were besieged by German riflemen. Pvt. Rion was shot in the neck but continued on and wiped out the riflemen. He was awarded the Purple Heart for the wound received.

Said Pvt. Rion, "I am very much interested in the new regular army and I believe it is a good deal for a soldier. I have tried everything and everywhere looking for a civilian job and am very dissatisfied with civilian life. Rion chose the three year enlistment and asked to be sent to the European theatre, which he knows well.

A new bill has just passed Congress and the army is now offering ex-service men an increase in monthly payments from $50 to $65 monthly and the removal of the age requirement. Upon completion of a three year enlistment in the regular army the government will now pay the ex-soldier $300 a year (school years) for a period of 48 months and $65 a month for subsistence if he is single. If married the man draws $300 a year for the same length of time plus $90 a month for subsistence. It is now possible for a man to serve three years in the regular army and then secure a master's degree from a college, university or trade school at government expense.

Grand and Trial Jury Lists are Made for January

Monday when the January term of Supreme Court was convened only 16 grand jurors remained after excuses had been exercised and an extra panel of six names was drawn for attendance this morning at 10 o'clock. Sixteen members of the grand jury are required for a quorum and unless extra jurors are retained on the panel it frequently happens that no business can be transacted. In order to assure full sessions usually more than 16 are retained.

Alligerville School Holds Christmas Party

The annual Christmas party and entertainment of the pupils of the Union Free School at Alligerville was held last Friday evening. The delay in holding the event was due to the outbreak of flu in December which caused the health officer to close the school from December 17 to January 2.

The program for the evening was excellent with all of the pupils being present to participate. Several of the older students presented a play which taught the meaning of Christmas and emphasized unselfish giving.

Santa Claus also paid a visit and distributed gifts to each pupil as well as each visitor present. Enough bread is baked every week on one of the 35,000-ton U. S. battleships to satisfy the average one-day consumption of every individual in a city of 8,500 population.

Traffic Deaths Took Sharp Rise During Past Year

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 8 (AP)—An estimate based on reports for the first 10 months of the year indicates a sharp rise in traffic deaths in New York state during 1945.

Motor Vehicle Commissioner Clifford J. Fletcher said yesterday he believed at least 1,800 persons were injured fatally in traffic accidents last year.

As of November 1, deaths totaled 1,336 and injuries 62,670. The 1945 estate, if substantiated by November and December reports, would mean an increase of about 14 per cent over the 1944 death toll of 1,584.

Fletcher said that the increase in accidents was outstripping increased motor travel since the end of gasoline rationing. He cited a death rate of 11.3 per 100,000 miles of motor travel for October, 1945, compared with 10.7

for October, 1944. There were corresponding increases in the injury and property damage rates. During the first 10 months of 1945 there were 120 pedestrian deaths, an increase of 30 compared with the same 1944 period. Pedestrian injuries rose from 1,922 to 2,470.

An increasing number of night accidents has been blamed on headlight glare, Fletcher said.

In an hour and a quarter, the present day American steel industry can equal total output in the whole year 1880.

30 Million Dead Slaves Was Goal of Nazis

Nuernberg, Jan. 7 (AP)—Waffen SS Lt. Gen. Erich von Dem Bach-Zelewski told the International Military Tribunal today that the Nazis attacked Russia with a goal of wiping out 30,000,000 Slavs.

Calmly and without batting an eye, the 46-year-old ardent Nazi admitted that brutality was directed especially against Partisans on the eastern front and asserted that the German high command could not help being fully aware of the methods used.

His testimony was against the 22 ranking Nazis on trial as war criminals before the court of the United States, Great Britain, Russia and France. He commanded German units which suppressed the Warsaw uprising in 1944 and was awarded the Knight's Cross by Hitler for his systematic destruction of the Polish capital in a 61-day siege.

Allied officers said Bach-Zelewski probably had witnessed more atrocities than any other German witness who has appeared at the trial.

Bach-Zelewski testified that Himmler, since a suicide, set the figure of 30,000,000 Slavs to be eliminated. He said there were no orders on how to deal with Partisans but he declared that the methods used "certainly were known" because full reports were made on every operation.

First Big Commercial McIntosh Grower in State

An article by M. B. Cummings on "The McIntosh Group of Apples" which appears in the January 5th number of the Rural New Yorker, is of special interest to Ulster county people because of the illustration which accompanies it.

The picture is an excellent likeness of the late A. E. Jansen of New Palis, who is shown standing in front of one of the fine trees in his McIntosh orchard—said to be the first commercial McIntosh orchard of any size in New York state. The photograph was made in 1927.

Mr. Cummings in his article describes the many new varieties of apples which are either seedlings or crosses with the famous McIntosh. He finds that none of the long list is "yet considered quite equal in all respects to the mother variety." The Cortland is listed as the best known and most extensively planted descendant in the McIntosh group.

The writer states that there are some six million McIntosh trees in the United States, so that it ranks eighth in tree population.

Recognize Austria

Washington, Jan. 7 (AP)—The United States formally recognized the government of Austria today and expressed hope that the first nation engulfed by Nazi Germany soon would achieve democracy and complete independence. Russia, Britain and France joined this country in granting recognition to the Vienna regime headed by Chancellor Leopold Figl and President Karl Renner. The recognition does not affect the authority of the Allied Control Council, which will continue to carry out "Allied objectives in Austria."

PICTURE YOURSELF working in a kitchen like this . . . . . !

Here's a cooking center with more freedom—more fun! The three major work areas consisting of sink, range and refrigerator are strategically placed to save steps and work. Cabinets and range are built down to the floor with cove bases for easy cleaning—and plenty of toe-room.

Through the open door is the laundry—a fully automatic washer and drier with ironer to take the weather entirely out of washday calculations.

There are lots of hidden things, too. There's an automatic water heater to run

HIGH FALLS

High Falls, Jan. 7.—The Marblotown Public Health Nursing Committee will hold its first meeting of the year at St. Peter's Parish Hall, Stone Ridge, Tuesday evening, January 8 at 8 o'clock.

Miss Helen M. Donderevich, a dental hygienist, will be the speaker. Miss Donderevich will demonstrate just how teeth should be cleaned and cared for. She will use a child from the audience as a model patient. There will also be movies on teeth care.

The Nursing Committee is contemplating starting a program through the schools of the town for care of the teeth, and it is hoped that all parents will make a special effort to be present to help discuss and plan such a program. Such programs have proved very successful in the Cottlet and High Falls schools and it is hoped that such service may be extended to the entire town if it is wanted.

There will also be the election of officers. This is important because only with enthusiastic and intelligent leadership can the work be carried on successfully.

Hurley Dance

The 4-H Girls of Hurley are sponsoring a square dance to be held in the Hurley school on Saturday evening. Dancing will commence at 8:30 o'clock, and the music will be furnished by Floyd Deitz.

Sorosis Studies Book Review

On 'The Black Rose' Novel

For the first meeting of the new year Sorosis was held at the home of Miss Lucinda Merrill, 113 Emerson street. The main topic for the day was a book review of "The Black Rose" by Thomas B. Costlan reported by Mrs. Clarence L. Dumm.

The story is laid in the 13th century directly following the Crusades and concerns a young Englishman who travels to Cathay, (China). Mrs. Dumm spoke of the vast amount of research necessary in preparing the story. Several times in the story the characters consider new inventions with much the same feelings that are now current about modern developments such as the atomic bomb. At that time gun powder was coming into use and people were speaking of the telescope and airplane.

Yanking Squad Holds No Terrors for McCarthy

By GALE TALBOT

New York, Jan. 8 (AP)—Joe McCarthy puffed complacently on good cigar and refused to worry about the terrific job he faces next month in trying to sort out 70 ball players in the Yankee's two Florida training camps. "It's not going to be as bad as some people seem to think," he said during a lull in yesterday's press conference at the Yankee hotel when the appointment of Ed Rolfe as the club's No. 1 coach was announced. "I won't be on a club like ours, where there are plenty of good ball players. Sure, it's going to be difficult to pick the best 25 or 30 players out of a lot of time to make our decisions, and the good ones have way of coming to the top. Missions will be made, I suppose. I might overlook some fine players, but I do they won't be lost to me. They'll still be on one of our clubs."

Joe estimated there would be 35 candidates at St. Petersburg and Bradenton whom he had not seen play in the last three years or never had seen in action.

Veterans Are Problem

"Frankly," he continued, "I'm not so much worried about recognizing the new talent as I am in detecting whether some of our old stars might have reached or passed their peaks while they were in the service. It's entirely possible that some of them did. They are the ones who are going to be in my camp at St. Petersburg and Bradenton, and I will make the training tour rough Texas with me."

The Yankee boss was entirely serious when he asked the baseball writers not to engage in a protracted guessing game about what he would do with his great second baseman, Joe Gordon, who is due back from service. It is quite a problem for George Stinewiss developed into a beauty while Gordon was away, leading the American League in batting in stolen bases the past season.

"Just let me decide about it," Joe said with a touch of asperity, "and when I get it figured out I'll tell everybody at once. If you wish, I'll put that in writing."

McCarthy has pretty well recovered from the stomach complaint which laid him low late last season and expects to get in a full year's work. He seems to have regained some of his old enthusiasm now that Joe DiMaggio and his other pennant-winning stars are returning. Not only that, but he and President Larry MacPhail appear to be hitting it off first rate. It is significant that Rolfe was McCarthy's choice as coach, not MacPhail's.

"About the only thing I've got to worry about now is all the married men on our roster," Joe smiled. "There must be 50 of them, and every last one wants to take his wife to Florida. That's okay with me, but they also would like for us to arrange living quarters for them, and it simply can't be done. There isn't a room or apartment available either at St. Pete or Bradenton, outside of our hotel accommodations. It looks like the boys will be bachelors down there."

Volleyball Dates

Seattle, Jan. 8 (AP)—The Washington Athletic Club, sponsor of the 1946 National A.A.U. volleyball tournament, has set the dates for the event as May 23, 24, and 25. The report said the Chicago team was expected to defend the title.

Harridge Predicts Banner Season For Big Leagues

By WILL HARRIDGE

President, The American Baseball League

Chicago, Jan. 8 (AP)—The most interesting chapter in baseball history will be written into the 46 records.

The return of scores of former players, the re-establishment of the all-star game, the coming of millions of fans who have been in service will combine to get our national game back to a flying start in its first pennant race since 1918.

The four war-time seasons which ended with the 1945 World Series themselves were notable in many ways. Millions of fans loyally supported every major league club, all of which were decidedly out of play. Yet, battles for the pennants were close, games were hard fought, and scores of older players and youngsters did splendid jobs of filling in for the absent performers in the armed forces.

Yet, there is no real substitute for "class" in baseball. The return of such stars as Joe DiMaggio and Joe Gordon, Johnny Pesky, Bob Feller, Barney McCosky, Ted Williams and Walter Judnich, to mention a few, will inject new vigor into the game. Add to that the many younger performers who know are coming out of the service and baseball will have had a start toward a fine season.

The American League already has listed on its active rosters the names of 110 players who served in the armed forces. Many of them had fine minor league records when they answered the call to the colors, and many are now ready to battle for regular jobs. I foresee the keenest fight for positions in the American League's history when the spring camps open in February.

Throughout the war, baseball went overseas to our fighting men through many mediums. Tremendous interests in baseball among soldiers, sailors and marines in all parts of the world was the greatest single factor in baseball's ability to keep going through the season of 1942-45. That interest, I am sure, has made thousands of new fans for our national sport.

Ferraro Hits 712 Triple To Spark Jones' Victory

Better Bowling By Billy Sixty

Natural Shift: The ball, having been pushed away from the body, moves into its downward arc. As it does, the body shift is easy, graceful, timed. The weight is moving entirely over to the right foot as the first step is being completed; the shoulders are being dropped into a natural forward and downward position as the body moves toward the foul line—easily, mind you, as if you were going for a slow walk.

The point of walking, instead of rushing, cannot be too heavily stressed. Quickening the action will immediately throw the whole thing out of gear—kill timing and control. Rushing will tend to turn the shoulders out of kilter in place of keeping them on a straight line, which holds the ball in a consistently grooved swing, directly backward and forward, swinging with the accuracy of a pendulum, and as perfectly timed.

I have found the push-away the simplest way of teaching, with surprisingly quick and sound results. It has worked especially well with women and with youngsters who don't have the strength to speed a ball through physical force. With the push-away they shape a long arc and develop good speed, plus control. But what is important is that they build a sound foundation under their bowling and develop a style that leaves little chance for error later on.

Loses Fight Monday But Retains Title

Lewiston, Me., Jan. 8 (AP)—A few hours before he entered the ring here last night, Al Michaud, 144½, of Lisbon, Me., was formally designated the Maine welterweight champion by the State Boxing Commission.

He dropped his guard for an instant and caught a right to the jaw that knocked him in the fifth of an eight round bout, but did not lose his title. Eddie Letourneau, his conqueror, entered the ring at 149, two pounds over the welter limit.

Providence, R. I., — Charles (Cabe) Lewis, 129½, New York, knocked out Larry Bolvin, 127½, Providence, (10).

Johnny Ferraro, who is generally considered the best bowler between New York and Albany, pounded out a sizzling 712 triple in Middletown Saturday night, as Jones Dairy emerged from its slump to overpower the Elks of that city, 2-1, in a Hudson Valley League duel.

In pyramiding strikes for games of 244, 261 and 267, the swarthy curly ball specialist gave the lie to reports that Middletown alleys can't be hit. The total sent Ferraro's average soaring to 207 for 45 games. In addition to the high average mark, the Jones sharp shooter holds other league records with a 279 single, 767 triple and 27 games of 200 or more.

Van Kleef's Truck Service won the odd set from Middletown on the local drives, protecting their lead over Newburgh, Charlie Grunwald, the Man with the Cigar, paced Van's with a 586 triple, while Gil Sampson rolled 215 for high single.

With John Sangi uncracking 639 and young Larry Welshaupt hitting 595, Trailways got back into the winning column with a two-game verdict over the Walden Red Tigers.

Independent League

The Independent Bowling League resumed action at the Central Rec Alleys Monday night after its holiday vacation. The results show Stone Ridge still holding its six-game lead over its nearest rival, with Vogel's Dairy moving into the second slot dropping Martin's Market to third. The Firemen held their lead by virtue of two wins over Callan's, Vogel's took three from Cole's Market, while Martin's had to be contented with one win over Jump's. Wilber's Coal trimmed Belcher's two, in a match Ward Dubois had a good chance for a perfect game, getting nine strikes in a row. But, lo and behold, the 8-10 split was standing after his tenth try.

These Paths Lead But To Separate Ends

New York, Jan. 8 (AP)—It is one of the bitter ironies of racing that George "The Iceman" Woolf should be killed the same week his long-time pal, Johnny Longden, was recognized as the jockey who came closest in racing history to winning a million dollars in one year with his mounts.

The cold figures show the 180-year-old little fellow with the wizened face bottled home picked up a fancy $189,977.

The tiny English-born saddle star, who likes mostly to bring them out of there a-whoooping when the starter gives that "come on now" and keep them on top all the way, has been so consistent year after year, that he has taken more races than any jockey in American turf history.

With his 189 in 1945, he now has piled up 2,418 firsts in 19 years of riding in the United States, Canada and Mexico. Actually, though, he's won the racing championship only once—back in 1928 when he clicked with 236 gallopers.

International Touch

New York, Jan. 8 (AP)—An international touch will be added to the top mile events of the fast approaching indoor track and field season. Marcel Huneke, outstanding French rider who ran some fast races against Sweden's famed Gunner Hagen and Arne Andersson, is signing for the U. S. from France on January 9 to compete here. Don Ferris, national secretary of the A.A.U., announced yesterday.

Y Basketeers Overpower Tannersville Five, 56-44

Smith and Thomas Share 46 Points In Rough Battle

If Lou Schafer's highly geared Y Varsity can maintain its better-than-50 point average, the current winning streak may go on forever.

Latest to feel the wrath of Kingston's better than a point-a-minute scourge are the Tannersville Mountain Tops, who succumbed in double fashion, 56-44 last night in the mountain stronghold. Basketball victories don't come easily in the mountain lair where the average game struggle is a delightful mixture of ju jitsu, Marine drill and alleged basketball. Last night's game was played strictly according to script, but somebody forgot to show it to Al Thomas and Bud Smith.

This sharpshooting duo accumulated 46 points between them and kept the mountaineers at a respectable distance after the home crowd roared the Y, 28-32 at halftime.

Smith, who can drop them from any part of the court, blasted the wicket with 11 dunks and four singletons for 26 points. Thomas, aggregated 20 with nine fields and two fouls. Tannersville placed three men in the double brackets. L. Truesdale set the pace with 14, while Loweree and Stein picked up 13 and 10 points respectively.

Jayvees Win 44-27

The Jayvees continued on their merry way, by routing the Tannersville seconds, 44-27, showing clean-cut superiority, after leading 16-12 at halftime. Bloom and Mathers sparked the club with 11 and 10 points.

SUZANNE DEGNAN

Intensive Search For Kidnap Slayer

finding of the severed head of the little girl in a catchbasin near an apartment building about a half block from the Degnan home.

About five hours later the left leg, severed at the thigh with a clean cut, was discovered in a sewer in a nearby alley. The right leg and parts of the torso were removed from another sewer in an alley a block south and near the Degnan home. Later the remainder of the torso, minus the arms, was found in another sewer, also less than a block from the home.

Torso in Sugar Bag
Police said the torso was found in a sugar sack and also inside the bag was a pair of girl's blue pajamas, which fitted the description of the clothing worn by Suzanne when she was kidnaped.

The brutality of the crime shocked the city. Hundreds of persons milled near the Degnan home throughout the night as scores of police toured the area in response to pleas from parents terrorized after news of the finding of the child's body. Many pleaded for police protection for their children until the killer had been apprehended.

Top law enforcement officials of Chicago and Cook county joined in the investigation. John C. Prendergast, recently named police commissioner, was in direct charge of the search for the killer and the Department's ace detectives were assigned to the case.

'Sadistic Fool'
Mayor Edward J. Kelly, who last night went to the home of the distraught parents, termed the slaying "even too horrible for a moment." Police Captain John L. Sullivan called the killer a "sadistic fool—motivated by both lust and money."

The only possible clues, police said, were two bags, in one of which parts of the body had been placed before being thrown into the sewers, fingerprints found on the window sill of Suzanne's bedroom and a makeshift seven foot ladder used by the kidnaper to enter the girl's room.

The parents, since the discovery of Suzanne's kidnaping at 7:30 a. m. Monday, had maintained hope throughout yesterday that they would get their child back by paying $20,000, as demanded in a note left in her room.

Appeal by Father
Degnan, 36 year old supervisory executive of the Chicago Metropolitan Office of Price Administration, had appealed by radio to the kidnaper to return his child and he would pay the ransom. He pleaded with his daughter to obey her abductor.

But his appeals and pleadings were of no avail. Police theorized that Suzanne, who was a first grade pupil in the Sacred Heart Academy, had been killed almost immediately after the kidnaper snatched her from her bed at a time estimated around 3 a. m. The kidnaper in his note had warned that he would harm his victim if police were notified of the abduction.

Degnan, whose salary is $7,500 a year, did not relate how he would raise the amount demanded by the kidnaper. He came to Chicago from Washington last July and his family—his wife, Suzanne and another daughter, Elizabeth, 10—followed him last September. A native of Worcester, Mass., and a graduate of Holy Cross College, Degnan before joining the O.P.A. as a field representative, had been in the retail business in the east.

The dismembered parts of the little girl's body were removed to the county morgue but an inquest was not set immediately.

Dr. Thomas A. Carter, a coroner's physician, said the dismemberment of the child's body was "crude." The cutting, he explained, might have been performed with a cleaver, a knife or an axe.

Parole Violator
Abraham Verity, 45, of Rockville Center, L. I., was taken into custody at Krakenham, Monday, by State Parole Office Agents. He was held at the Ulster county jail on a charge of violation of parole.

Morgan Refuses To Resign Post

Awaits Fuller Information Before Going to London

London, Jan. 8 (AP)—Lieut. Gen. Sir Frederick E. Morgan has refused to resign as chief of U.N. R.R.A. operations in Germany, the agency's London headquarters said today.

Announcement previously had been made that Gen. Morgan was requested by U.N.R.R.A. in London to come here and resign, after he had told a news conference that he believed a secretly plotted exodus of Jews from Europe was underway.

An U.N.R.R.A. spokesman said the general replied that he was not resigning and that he would await fuller information before leaving for London.

U.N.R.R.A. officials conferred at length today after receiving Morgan's reply. There was no indication when they would take further action, although it was believed there would be no announcement for at least a week.

enough from this to offset five or six cents of the C.I.O.-Packing House Workers' demand for a 25-cent hourly increase. Added to the seven and one-half cents at least one of the "Big Four" packers—Swift & Company—has offered, this would permit an increase of 12½ or 13½ cents. Other sources said the total increase under study was 17½ cents, but that figure could not be broken down.

Government officials watched with interest, meanwhile, possible effects of the settlement last night between the Kaiser-Frazer Corp. and the C.I.O.-Auto Workers at the Willow Run operations recently taken over from Ford.

The new wage rate will total $1.19 an hour at the outside, about seven cents more than General Motors' present rate.

Dewey in Favor Of Tax Increases Where Need Shows

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 8 (AP)—Municipalities wanting authority to broaden their local tax bases will receive "favorable consideration" from Governor Dewey's Administration provided the need for additional revenue is established.

The Administration's position became known last night in reaction to the request of New York City's Mayor William O'Dwyer for more revenues and legislative authorization to increase existing levies.

Any tax that New York or any other city in the state wishes to propose "will have a favorable reaction here if they can establish the need," an informed source said.

It was learned that Dewey was opposed to O'Dwyer's request that New York City be given all of the State Stock Transfer Tax collected in New York City, estimated at $20,000,000, and also to O'Dwyer's request that half of all state racing revenues collected in the city be given to New York.

O'Dwyer estimated this year, in addition to his proposed graduated city tax on racetrack turnover, would yield New York City $20,000,000.

The governor is reported favorably disposed, however, to granting O'Dwyer's request for doubling the city's present one per cent sales tax. The mayor would earmark the extra revenue for subway and surface line rehabilitation.

O'Dwyer made his tax relief proposals in a letter to State Comptroller Frank C. Moore in the latter's capacity as chairman of the State Commission of Municipal Revenues and Reduction of Real Estate Taxes in order to meet an estimated increase of $65,000,000 in the city's operating expenses for the next fiscal year.

2,000 Attend Funeral Rites for Georgie Woolf

Aracadia, Calif., Jan. 8 (AP)—More than 2,000 friends of Georgie Woolf, one of America's great jockeys, paid their last respects to him yesterday.

Woolf, who died from a skull fracture suffered last week when a horse threw him, was buried in Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Glendale.

Occupying the first three rows of Aracadia Community Church were 60 honorary pallbearers, jockeys and ex-jockeys, facing a huge floral display. Many of the boys broke down and cried as Gene Autrey, cowboy actor, and his quartet sang "The Last Round-up."

Temperature Rise Shatters Ice Jam In Rondout Creek

City Experiences Warmest January 7 in Number Of Years; Highest Reading is 55

The spring-like temperatures of the past few days and the heavy fog that prevailed all day and during the evening Monday weakened the ice in the Rondout creek to such an extent that the ice disappeared last night, leaving open water between Eddyville and the mouth of the creek.

Yesterday was the warmest January 7th in a number of years in Kingston, with the official city thermometer recording a high of 55 degrees during the afternoon.

Throughout yesterday and last night the city was enveloped in a heavy fog, which made traveling hazardous, although no automobile accidents were reported to the police.

Although the Rondout is now clear of ice, the ice folds in the Hudson off Kingston Point still are intact. In Newburgh Bay, where the ice had previously broken up, new ice jams are creating serious difficulties for the ferry service between that city and Beacon. Service has not been interrupted, but the schedules have been seriously affected.

Temperatures in Kingston yesterday ranged from 50 degrees in the morning to a high of 55 degrees in the afternoon. Toward night the mercury began to drop and a low of 43 degrees was recorded, while at 8 o'clock this morning the official thermometer reading was 38 degrees.

During the night the heavy fog that had enveloped the city all day lifted and this morning the sun broke through the clouds.

Cooler Weather Brings Relief From Floods

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 8 (AP)—Flood threats in the northern and western sections of the state were ended today as cooler temperatures terminated a three-day thaw that had melted much of the state's snow cover.

The return of freezing temperatures checked the rapid run-off of water that had swollen streams and caused flood conditions in a number of communities.

Flood waters were receding at Batavia and Watertown where the most serious floods were reported.

The Tonawanda creek spilled over its banks at Batavia yesterday, inundating a two-block section of Main street, while at

Watertown the Kelsey creek overflowed, marooning many families and causing thousands of dollars of property damage.

Fuller's Open Plant In Lebanon Springs

Owing to the increased demand for shirts the Fuller Shirt Co. of Pine Grove avenue is expanding, and Wednesday plans to place in operation a branch factory at Lebanon Springs. Lebanon Springs is located 10 miles from Pittsfield, Mass.

The new plant will be in charge of Bert Rowe of Nassau, an experienced shirt man who was formerly employed by the Cluett-Peabody firm.

Approximately 60 to 75 people will be employed in the branch factory.

It is said that the local shirt company is also investigating sites in other communities with an idea of opening other branch plants, if business conditions warrant. The main factory and office of the concern will continue to be located on Pine Grove avenue.

Marines Cut Points
Washington, Jan. 8 (AP)—The Marine Corps made 28,000 more of its men eligible today for release from service after February 1 by cutting its discharge score from 50 to 45.

The reduction does not affect women Marines. The critical point score for the Women's Auxiliary was dropped to 18 on New Year's Day.

Most foods eaten by man are 60 to 95 per cent water.
